

Research & Learn

In Over and Out by Jenni L. Walsh, Sophie is named after Sophie Scholl, a hero of the Second World War. She also learns she shares a first name with Sophie Blanchard, the first woman aeronaut to pilot a balloon. In the book, Sophie strives to be daring like her namesakes. Research your name (it's okay if it's not an exact match. Sophie's best friend Katarina finds a similar name to her own, Katharina Paulus, who was the inventor of the first collapsable parachute). How does your namesake inspire you?
